

DISASTROUS WRECKS

Accidents on Several Different Railroads.

EXCURSION TRAIN DERAILED

Over a Score of People Injured, Three of Whom Will Die—Three Lives Lost in Kentucky Freight Wreck—Other Railroad Disasters.

AKRON, O., July 26.—Spreading rails on the Pittsburgh and Western railroad caused one of the worst railway wrecks which has ever occurred in this section. Three coaches of a westbound Baltimore and Ohio excursion train were thrown from the track just east of Monroe Falls and over a score of people were injured, at least three of whom will die.

The wrecked train was the second section of the Baltimore and Ohio regular No. 5. It was the first of the excursion trains which the Baltimore and Ohio is to run from the east to the world's fair. Just east of Monroe Falls is a sharp curve, and the ill-fated train came around it at the rate of 50 miles an hour. The tremendous pressure caused the spikes to give way in the rotten ties. The rails spread, three cars were derailed and more than 20 people were either fatally injured, crippled for life or temporarily disabled.

The embankment and the right hand side of the track is 15 feet high and over this the coaches tumbled, carrying their precious load of human freight. One car was literally torn to pieces, scarcely one timber holding to another. It was in this car that the passengers sustained the worst injuries. The other two cars were also badly disabled and lay at the bottom of the embankment. Great holes were crushed into the sides and the occupants and contents were mixed up in the greatest confusion.

Fortunately flames did not add to the terrible work of the wreck, and brave men went to work with a will releasing the helpless from the coaches in which they were imprisoned. Many of the passengers were able to crawl out of the windows and holes in the sides of the coaches, but others were pinned down by the seats and broken timbers.

Word was immediately sent along the line and medical aid summoned. Physicians and surgeons from this city, Kent and Cuyahoga Falls, were at once hastened to the scene of the wreck. The wounded were tenderly cared for, and later were brought to this city by train, where ambulances promptly conveyed them to the city hospital.

Those probably fatally injured are: Mrs. Maggie Cere, Washington, cut about head, left side and arms, internally injured.

Miss Mary W. Smith, Washington, cut on head, internally injured.

Miss Lela Hunt, Baltimore, cut about the head and neck, internally injured.

Others injured are:

Henry F. Heile, Philadelphia, back sprained.

N. P. Boyer, Coatesville, Pa., serious cut on head.

William M. Morrow, Philadelphia, head cut and back hurt.

Louis Steinback, Baltimore, left leg cut and bruised.

James E. Muse, Baltimore, back sprained.

Frank H. Hite, Lafayette, Pa., slightly cut, not serious.

Mrs. Eliza White, Lafayette, Pa., shoulder dislocated.

I. H. Morelock, Washington, severe scalp wound.

F. O. Staats, Vienna, Fairfax county, Va., injured internally.

Dr. J. R. Allen, Baltimore, arm and ribs broken.

W. A. Mode, Washington, back injured.

H. C. Mode, Washington, wound in head.

Anna Miller, Washington, hurt about head, arm and side.

Lillian Cramer, Camden, N. J., arm fractured.

Isabel Forbes, Camden, N. J., head cut.

H. M. Mice, Camden, N. J., cuts on head and back.

L. Stuart, Baltimore, injuries about breast and head.

Mrs. Lena Sturgeon, cut about head. With Mrs. Sturgeon were three children, all escaped.

AN OPEN SWITCH

Causes a Bad Freight Wreck at Delaware.

DELAWARE, O., July 26.—A bad collision occurred on the Hocking Valley at the south entrance to the yards of this city. A double-header freight, 55 loads of coal, was coming north, when the leading engine uncoupled to run forward onto the switch, where it is customary to wait until the train passes, when it runs out to push the train over the heavy grade north of town.

The brakeman failed to close the switch, and the heavy train dashed into the first engine, completely demolishing the engine and fireman in the wreck. The front of the other engine was badly stove in. Engineer Brown of the forward engine was horribly bruised and lacerated, his hands and face being badly bruised and cut. Fireman Law was also badly used up, being cut about the face and body. An unknown brakeman fractured his skull in jumping against the fence. The injured were immediately taken to Columbus.

FREIGHT WRECK.

Three People Killed and Two of the Bodies Badly Burned.

EVANVILLE, Ind., July 26.—Freight train No. 92, southbound on the Ohio Valley railroad, was wrecked near Morganfield, Ky., about 30 miles south of this city.

The killed are:

Frank Threlkeld, fireman, Hatfield, Indiana.

Frederick Vandoran, engineer, Henderson, Ky.

William Davis, head brakeman, Hopkinsville, Ky. Davis was thrown from the cars to the ground and caught in the debris. The cars took fire and he was burned into an almost unrecognizable mass. Engineer Vandoran's body was also burned.

The wreck was caused by the engine striking a cow.

CRASHED THROUGH A TRESTLE.

One Man Instantly Killed and Three Others Injured.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—A northbound freight train on the St. Louis, Chicago and St. Paul railroad, consisting of 18 local freight cars, crashed through a trestle near Rehl's station, piling up the entire train in a heap.

Conductor W. E. Burrell of Springfield, Ill., was instantly killed; brakeman Charles Johnson and W. A. Clements of Alton, and Walter Manning of Springfield, were probably fatally injured. The trestle was comparatively new and no cause is known for its collapse.

Wreck on the Old Colony.

PROVIDENCE, July 26.—At 1:01 o'clock Tuesday morning the first section of the mail train from Boston to New York was wrecked on the Old Colony road opposite Dodgeville station. A freight train from Boston crashed into it before the engineer could reduce the speed of his engine. The engine was completely demolished. A mail clerk named Moller, belonging in New York, was instantly killed, and another mail clerk, named Murphy, seriously hurt. Several of the passengers were also injured.

KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP.

Commercial Travelers Have a Great Time in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Despite the exceedingly warm weather, the parade of the commercial travelers was a magnificent success. Over 12,000 men were in line, and no less than 44 states and eight foreign countries, viz: England, Germany, France, Austria, Holland, New Zealand, Australia and Canada were represented.

The parade formed on Michigan avenue, between the art palace and Van Buren viaduct, and shortly after 10 o'clock, headed by the Trocadero band, and escorted by the Chicago huzzars under Captain Brand, began its march down Michigan avenue to Twenty-second street.

On arriving at Twenty-second street it counter-marched back again to the Van Buren viaduct where it disbanded. As the parade passed the travelers' club at 1227 Michigan avenue it was reviewed by Mayor Harrison, President Higginbotham of the world's fair, members of the national commission and others.

In the afternoon the commercial travelers' new clubhouse on Michigan avenue was dedicated and at night a special program in honor of the travelers was given at the Trocadero.

WITH VARIATIONS.

A Pretty Good Snake Story Coming Out of Connecticut.

DANBURY, Conn., July 26.—George Fraleigh of this city while working at haying for William Odell in Brookfield one morning last week lifted a fork full of hay to place it on the load, when he fell to the ground with the hay on top of him. When picked up Fraleigh had hold of a blacksnake which was coiled about his neck. The serpent did not bite him, but it left a black mark. Fraleigh was disabled from work for the day.

The next morning, and every morning since at the same hour that the snake wound itself around the man's neck, he has been taken with choking spasms and fits of strangulation and is growing weaker every day. The case is being watched by local physicians whose efforts to allay his suffering have thus far proved futile. The snake measured four feet three inches.

BEHRING SEA CONTROVERSY.

A Rumor That It Has Been Decided in Favor of the United States.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—A rumor reached Washington last night that the arbitrators in the Behring sea controversy between the United States and Great Britain, who have been in session at Paris since March, listening to arguments in the case, had decided in favor of the United States.

No confirmation of the report can be had here as Second Assistant Secretary Adee, who is in charge of the state department in the absence of Secretary Gresham at his country place in Maryland. It was learned, however, that some of the officials of the department did not leave the building until 7 o'clock, which may or may not be of significance in this connection. But little credence was given to the rumor.

Reducing Wages.

RUTLAND, Vt., July 26.—The Vermont Marble company has notified its men that wages will be reduced 15 per cent on Aug. 1. The company is the largest marble concern in the world and employs about 2,000 men.

Closed Down Indefinitely.

RICHMOND, Ind., July 26.—The Richmond city mill works, one of the largest manufacturing industries of the city, employing nearly 200 men, has closed down for an indefinite period.

Preparing to Resume Work.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., July 27.—The Phoenix Bridge company ordered its superintendent here to be ready to resume work on the Ohio bridge at a moment's notice.

MORE BANKS FAIL.

Nine Different Institutions Close Their Doors.

SIX CITIES ARE INVOLVED.

Two in Indianapolis, Three in Louisville and One Each in Milwaukee, Manchester, New Hampshire, Chicago and Findlay, Ohio—Other Business Failures.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 26.—The Indianapolis National bank, capital $300,000, has closed its doors. No statement has been made as to its condition, except that the failure is for $1,200,000. For many years the Indianapolis National has been regarded as among the strongest banks in this city. The suspension of the bank is due to the general financial stringency.

Added to the demands of local depositors were calls from several of the institution's correspondents throughout the state, and enough was checked out during the day to convince President Haughey and the board of directors that there was but one course to pursue.

According to the statement of the bank made July 15, the loans and discounts amounted to $1,545,854.16, while the cash and securities on hand aggregated $683,000. The individual deposits subject to check were $826,560.73.

The bank was a United States depository, and had all the federal money in it, amounting exactly to $300,000. The Indianapolis National bank is one of the oldest, and has been one of the most flourishing banks in Indianapolis and the entire west.

Mr. Haughey, the president, is not only the oldest bank president in continuous service in the city, but he is, with one exception, the oldest banker here. President Haughey made the following statement:

"I was not aware until Saturday evening of the gravity of the situation. The Louisville and New Albany failures seemed to aggravate the local financial situation in such a way as to produce rapid spreading and fatal rumors."

"I thought it was wise at that time to consult with some of my fellow-bankers, and called in representatives of Fletcher's, the Indiana National, Meridian National and Merchants' National banks."

"It was my opinion that $30,000 would carry our bank through, and I asked for this amount in the shape of a loan. These banks very generously gave me $50,000."

"This sum was sufficient to carry me through Monday, but left me at the close worse off than on Saturday evening. Meanwhile we were unable to immediately realize on a great deal of our securities. I finally concluded that the tide that had set in was too strong to stem and it would be best for all concerned to suspend."

While the crowd was clustered about the suspended Indianapolis National bank, a few were watching the doors of the Bank of Commerce across the street. At 9 o'clock the curtains remained up and soon a white paper was posted announcing that the bank would not open. The stringency of the money market is the reason given for closing. The Bank of Commerce has not been one of large deposits, and its failure will not have much effect on the local money market. Its indebtedness is said to be only about $150,000.

The suspensions caused considerable excitement on the streets and a heavy run was made on all the other banks.

At noon the runs on the Meridian and Fletcher's banks ended, but there was still a crowd of depositors in line at the Indiana National bank.

Confidence is rapidly being restored, as all the other banks were prepared for such emergencies. Their policy has been to keep strong reserve in cash which has for two months or more never been less than 50 per cent of the liabilities.

It is said that the failure of the Indiana National bank to keep strong in its reserve cash inspired the distrust that resulted in its failure. It is believed that two factories will be carried down by the failure of the Indianapolis National.

THREE FAILURES AT LOUISVILLE.

A Run On the Other Banks of That City Results.

LOUISVILLE, July 26.—Yesterday was a memorable day in the financial history of Louisville. At 10 o'clock the Merchants' National bank posted a notice of suspension, and half an hour later the failure of the Louisville Deposit bank was announced.

By this time half a dozen banks in the city were being run by depositors, mostly small ones. They all stood the pressure except one, the Fourth National, which closed its doors in the board of trade building at 1:10 o'clock. At that hour the excitement was running high, and everyone of half a dozen banks was crowded with depositors, who were in line awaiting their turn with the paying teller.

The first failure of the present crisis was that of the Kentucky National bank Saturday. Then came the Louisville City National Monday, after the intervention of a Sunday holiday, and the Merchants' National, the Louisville Deposit and the Fourth National yesterday.

The failure of the Merchants' National was caused by the withdrawals of country banks and country depositors. The Louisville Deposit was the only bank in the city not a member of the Clearing House association, and in its time of need none of the other banks would give it any assistance whatever. The suspension of the Fourth National was a result of the panic.

There has been a steady pulling out of deposits. This changed into a run after the suspension of the Kentucky National last Saturday, and the run continued Monday and Tuesday and until the funds were exhausted.

None of the failures are considered bad ones. Depositors in the two national banks will be paid in full, and the loss to stockholders will not be more than 60 per cent in either case. The Merchants' National bank is capitalized at $500,000, and J. H. Lindenberger is president. The Fourth National has a capital of $300,000, a surplus of $35,000. George Davis is president. The Louisville Deposit bank has a capital of $300,000 and a surplus $16,128. Moses Schwartz is president.

Big Milwaukee Bank Failure.

MILWAUKEE, July 26.—The Wisconsin Fire and Marine Insurance Company bank has closed its doors. This is Senator Mitchell's bank, and has been considered the strongest bank in the city. Stringency of the money market is the reason given for the closing.

This bank, which has generally been known as "Mitchell's bank," as Senator Mitchell, and his father before him, the late Alexander Mitchell, had been the principal stockholders, was considered the very strongest bank in the city, and during the troubles of June and this week, there have been comparatively unimportant runs on it.

The bank was closed up on an action brought by Benjamin Weil, a real estate man, who alleged that the bank owed him $3,341.71, which it was unable to pay. On motion of B. K. Miller, Judge Johnson appointed Washington Becker receiver, under bonds of $1,000,000.

This bank is the city depository, and at the present time holds $1,635,000 of the city's money.

The Wisconsin Marine and Fire Insurance Company bank is the oldest bank in the west, having been chartered by the territorial legislature of Wisconsin in 1839. In 1884 the legislature of Wisconsin repealed its charter. The bank organized as a state bank in 1853, with a capital of $500,000, the highest permitted. David Ferguson entered the bank in 1840 and John Johnston in 1856. On the death of Alexander Mitchell in 1887 he bequeathed one-third of the bank to each of them and the management of the bank has been in their charge since. One-third was bequeathed to his son, John L. Mitchell, who was elected to fill his father's place as president. John L. Mitchell became president of the bank, David Ferguson vice president, and John Johnston, cashier.

Cashier Murphy made the following statement:

"We have not much to say about the matter at the present time, and in fact there is not much to be said. We have been subjected to a constant drain for some time and had realized on about every asset on which the bank could get money on short notice. We felt that under the existing conditions it was only a question of time before suspension must inevitably come, and therefore decided to close. We considered it best for all concerned not to open for business. This bank is not solvent by any means, and only time is needed to realize enough to meet every liability. It not only has ample assets, but Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Johnston are behind it."

Washington Becker said: "I have every reason to hope that our depositors will receive their money in a reasonably short time. I can't say how soon, of course, but I hope it will be at an early day."

New England Banks Gone.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 26.—The National Bank of the Commonwealth suspended payment. This action was determined on at a meeting of the directors, and the national controller was notified. Its assets and liabilities are about $625,000; deposits, $310,529; capital stock, $200,000. The suspension of the New Hampshire Trust and Bank of New England precipitated the Commonwealth's suspension.

The Bank of New England had a capital of $100,000, and its officers say depositors will lose nothing.

The savings banks of the city have voted to demand the 90 days' notice authorized by law on all withdrawals of over $100. The five remaining national banks will also stand by each other and establish a sort of clearinghouse arrangement for mutual protection.

Small Concern in Chicago Closed.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Bradford & Church, Dearborn street bankers, have closed their financial institution. The deposits will reach $25,000 or $30,000 due to poor people and children. The firm conducted business on the "iron-bank plan." Diminutive iron banks were distributed among the poorer classes, in which small savings were placed, and when filed were taken to the main office. It is said the whereabouts of the members of the firm are unknown.

One at Findlay, O., Suspends.

FINDLAY, July 26.—The Farmers' National bank, one of the most popular institutions of the city, closed its doors at noon because of inability to realize on its assets. The comptroller of the treasury was at once notified to take the bank in charge. No statement has been given as yet. No excitement prevails, and the other three banks in the city are prepared for any run that may follow.

Paid All Demands.

TACOMA, Wash., July 29.—As soon as the banks opened there was a steady stream of depositors to withdraw their money at nearly all the prominent banks. The banks, however, promptly paid all demands.

Will Reopen Again.

BUFFALO, July 26.—The stockholders of the suspended Queen City bank held a meeting and decided to resume business, with a capital reduced to $300,000.

RUNAWAY PASSENGER TRAIN.

A Defective Throttle Responsible For a Thrilling Experience.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., July 27.—A passenger train sweeping past all the stations between Louisville and New Albany at dizzying speed, the engineer and fireman seen pulling out the fire and opening every cock through which steam would escape, until the whizzing engine traveled in a cloud of fog, that was the sight seen by people at the junction below this city and along the suburban line between here and New Albany yesterday about noon.

Of course there was something wrong, and everybody on board the train knew it as soon as its whistle screamed for the junction, but no stop was made to let off passengers for this city. Conductor Miller, Engineer Paddy Mark and Fireman Printz, including passengers, were ready to jump, for there was the greatest danger of a terrible collision, and had the engine not succeeded in getting rid of the steam, the engine would have run through New Albany at a 70-mile rate and dashed into a train on the Air Line.

The cause of the trouble was the breaking or disconnection of the throttle a few moments after leaving Louisville, and as the steam valves were wide open, the engine steadily increased her speed until it was something terrific, and no one knows how fast she traveled. The seven miles between New Albany and Louisville were made in a few minutes, and the engine was not stopped until all the steam was nearly released and the airbrakes overcame the engine at Sixteenth street.

CAPE MAY CUP.

A Great Race in the English Channel in August.

LONDON, July 26.—Aug. 5 is the date that has been fixed for the race for the Cape May cup, in which Lord Dunsen's cutter Valkyrie and Royal Phelps Carroll's Navahoe will take part. It is probable, however, that the contest will have to be postponed owing to the fact that the Valkyrie is entered for other races that will prevent her from sailing for the Cape May cup on the date specified.

The Cape May cup, it will be recalled, was won in 1885 by the cutter Genesta, owned by Sir William Sutton, which went to America to attempt to capture the America cup. In the race for the America cup she was defeated by the Puritan, but subsequently she won the Cape May and Benton Reef cups from American yachts, and the trophies have since been held in England. The course to be sailed this year for the Cape May cup is from the Needles, off the west coast of the Isle of Wight, to and around the breakwater at Cherbourg, France.

COAXING OUR FARMERS AWAY.

Canadian Government Agents Working in Disguise.

NEW YORK, July 26.—An Ottawa special says:

An interesting international question is to be raised as to the right of the Canadian government agents to enter the United States in disguise with a view to inducing settlers there to emigrate to the Canadian northwest. At least 40 of these agents are at work all the way from Maine to Dakota. It is further said that a special effort is to be made to induce the farmers of New York east of Cape Vincent to emigrate.

The deputy minister of the interior states that last year 2,400 settlers were secured for the Canadian northwest from the United States. A resident of the United States, who has been investigating this matter, is reported to be preparing to file a formal complaint at Washington. The disguise usually assumed by the Canadian agents is that of a farmer, and the chief argument used is the vast inferiority of the American soil in comparison with that of Canada.

A HOLE IN THE GROUND

All There Is to Show For Several Millions Invested Therein.

JERSEY CITY, July 26.—The question of the application for the appointment of a receiver for the Hudson River Tunnel company is before Chancellor McGill. The scheme was organized by English capitalists, and a capital of $10,000,000 was subscribed or pledged. In 1881 a mortgage of $10,000,000 was executed to the Central Trust company and a second one for $2,750,000 in 1889 to the Farmers' Loan and Trust company. Work has been carried on for five years at the foot of Fifteenth street, and the tunnel has been extended 200 feet under the bed of the river towards New York. The project, however, has now been practically abandoned, and there is nothing but the big hole under the river to show for the millions of dollars that have been sunk.

Worse Than Reported.

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—The loss occasioned by the fire of the Ohio Transfer and Storage company's building proves to be greater than at first supposed. It is now estimated at about $600,000, with not over $150,000 insurance. The burned building was used as a warehouse by all the agricultural implement companies of the country, Columbus being the largest distributing point in the United States. A spark from a locomotive is thought to have started the conflagration.

BRAZIL, Ind., July 26.—The young daughter of John Early of Harmony took a lamp and went to bed to read. She became so engrossed in the book that she did not see that the lamp had set fire to the bedding which soon surrounded her with flames. She escaped with slight injury, but her mother, who rushed to her assistance, was considerably burned. The building was saved.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Local showers; slightly cooler.

The Citizens' Savings Bank of Portsmouth has resumed. The people showed their confidence by depositing $30,000 the first day it reopened its doors.

Squire Weaver, in response to the calls and the solicitations of his friends, has entered the race for Representative. His announcement appears elsewhere. He is one of the successful and substantial citizens of Minerva precinct, and has been honored for years with the position he now holds.

Mr. Lane, of the firm of Lane & Bodley, of Cincinnati, who cut the wages of their employees this week, thinks "the present stringency of the money market dates back to the failure of the Baring Bros., of England, and the troubles with the Argentine Republic." Mr. Lane evidently has not been reading the Public Ledger of this city.

"The farmer who voted for a 'change' last fall wishes, when he reads the market quotations of wheat, that he could have a chance to vote for another change this fall," exclaims the Commercial Gazette. The C. G. and other Republican calamity howlers forget that wheat brought very little more last fall than it now brings. But Republican editors, as a rule, have short memories, or very little conscience.

The Pension office has issued an additional statement in regard to the suspension of the pension of Judge Dean Long which is causing such a stir. But this additional statement doesn't better the matter. The examination shows that the case was taken up without legal application or declaration of any kind, on May 6, 1889; medical action taken on May 6, 1889, and certificate issued on May 6, 1889.

In other words, it was railroaded through between two suits, and something like $6,000 paid the Judge in back pension. On July 30, 1889, in compliance with a letter written by the Judge to Commissioner Tanner, dated June 12, 1889, the case was further re-rated at the rate of $25 per month from June 24, 1892, to June 6, 1896, and $31.25 per month from June 4, 1872, to June 4, 1874. This second re-rating netted the Judge a total of about $1,000.

The papers also show that, despite the fact that the Office Medical Board, which examined Judge Long on March 21, 1884, only found him entitled to $30 per month, which defeated any right of his to an increase, for he was then in receipt of $30 per month pension, in August, 1884, his pension was arbitrarily increased by Commissioner Dudley to $50 per month.

HIT 'EM HARD.

"The disordered financial condition of the country is affording much merriment to the Republican editors of small bore," says the Hunterdon, (N. J.) Democrat. "They see in the distress brought about by the stringency in the money market cause for much hilarity, and an exuberance of spirit is manifested that reminds us of the ribald antics of the brutal Nero during the burning of ancient Rome. It may be very 'funny' to these Republican editors, but other people can find no especial amusement in the condition which confronts the country—a condition brought upon us by billion Republican Congress appropriations, the squandering of the surplus, the sending abroad of the gold reserve, the enactment of the Sherman silver bill, and the organization of calamity by the late Harrison administration.

THE POCKET STATE WHIRLWIND.

Says the Philadelphia Times: "We sowed to the wind to serve partisan ends by the creation of pocket States in the West, and now we must reap the whirlwind. Six new States were added to the Union by the Harrison administration avowedly to maintain indefinite Republican rule in the Senate and to strengthen the party in the electoral college, and we have the result in a Democratic Senate, and half the newly created pocket States bolting the party that made them. And when it is remembered that every one of those pocket commonwealths is interested in the degradation of our money, and will resist any and every sound financial policy to the bitter end, the measure of the whirlwind we have invited can be understood. The chief peril to honest money now centers in the little pocket States, and any one of them, with no more population than an average ward in Philadelphia or New York, can equal the power of New York or Pennsylvania in shaping our financial system."

Looked on With Suspicion.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A very pretty and fashionably dressed young woman and an ordinary man of German appearance were brought to the district attorney's office yesterday afternoon. Their manner was mysterious, and they were kept under the surveillance of the detectives connected with the district attorney's office.

All the attempts to ascertain who they were proved to be of no avail until late yesterday afternoon, when District Attorney Nichol made the statement regarding them.

He said they were Carl Wimmer, alias Muller, and his wife Mary, who were wanted for their connection with Dr. Henry Meyer in the alleged poisoning of various persons to defraud life insurance companies.

They were brought on here yesterday from Chicago by Daniel G. Gillette, superintendent of the medical revision department of the Mutual Life Insurance company, and Detective J. Allen. Mr. Nicol received word yesterday that the couple had been found and were at once telegraphed to be brought to this city. Mr. Nicol said that he did not know at the present time whether or not he would charge Wimmer with any crime, but it was possible he might be indicted for complicity in the crime for which Meyer is held.

Wimmer lived with Meyers at 820 West Thirtieth street at the time of the death of Ludwig Brandt and disappeared a few days later.

Mr. Nicol committed him to the house of detention and Mrs. Wimmer was allowed to go in the custody of her lawyer, James Kennedy of Chicago. She is not actually under arrest, but Mr. Nicol takes the precaution of keeping her within hailing distance.

Hidden Treasure of British Royalty.

King John was both a seeker for and a hider of treasure. We find him digging for treasure in Northumberland about the sites of the stations on the Roman wall, and he was reputed to have stores of treasure in his favorite strongholds. Somewhere buried in the sandy estuaries of Lincolnshire are the golden crown and jewels of King John, with the chests of treasure that were carried in his train. But we speculate, too, about other hoards, chiefly buried beneath the foundations of his castle walls, the secret of which was lost in the sudden death of the greedy king.

Again there is a royal treasure perhaps at this moment lying hid in some rocky chasms of the mountains of Wales—nothing less than the treasure of King Edward II, which he carried with him in his flight from his triumphant queen and her paramour, and which they vainly, it would seem, after his capture endeavored to recover.—All the Year Round.

Not Much Ice in Haffin Bay.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—The bark E. O. Clark has arrived from Ivigtut, Greenland. From the report of Captain Chase, the steamer Falcon, with Lieutenant Peary and his Greenland exploring party aboard, will have no trouble from the ice in reaching its destination at McCormick's bay. Captain Chase says that Davis strait is clear of ice on the west side, the floes having drifted over toward the northeast shore and that the way is open to McCormick's bay.

Silver Mines to Start Up.

ASPEN, Colo., July 26.—The management of the Montezuma silver mine has decided to resume operations and ship its output to the smelters, where it is to be stored, awaiting a more favorable condition of the silver market before it is settled for. About 200 men will be given employment.

Great Calamity in China.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Advices from Hong Kong give details of a terrible explosion at the government powder magazine at Canton on June 24 which killed many persons, injuring over 300 people and wrecking 400 houses.

At a Two-Three Gait.

PORTLAND, Me., July 26.—Stallion Nelson at the Maine mile trotting track, driven by his owner, trotted an exhibition mile in 2:10 1-4, making the last quarter in 30 3-4, which is a 2.03 gait.

Now is the Time to Advertise.

There is no more profitable season for newspaper advertising than during a general business depression, says the Lexington Leader. When such conditions exist the bargain announcements of the merchants are unusually attractive, and many a man or woman who ordinarily trades with some personal friend, or at a store a little more convenient than others, will walk several blocks to save a dime or a nickel. The merchant, too, owing to a dull trade, makes additional efforts to tide over the stringency, and the bargains he offers the public are real and desirable. He must have money to meet his expenses, and first cost of wares is not the most important consideration. Now is the time to advertise.

TWO CASES in which fire was caused by water are reported. In one a flood caused the water to raise high enough to reach a pile of iron filings in a factory. The filings oxidized so rapidly as to become so intensely heated as to set fire to neighboring wood work, and the factory was burned to the ground. In the other case, during a fire, water from the engines found its way to a shed containing quick lime. The heat generated by the lime set fire to the shed and the flames spread to other buildings.

CAMPING AT RUGGLES.

Each Year Adds to the Interest in the Annual Meeting—Cottages Filling Up.

RUGGLES CAMP GROUNDS, July 25, 1893.
Editor Bulletin: Once more we are tenting on the old camp grounds, and O, what memories they bring back to us, as we sit under these beautiful trees and look over these delightful grounds. Many, very many, with whom we have enjoyed this lovely retreat, have passed beyond and will not meet with us again, but it only reminds us that this is a world of changes, and we can not tell what a year may bring forth.

Each year adds to the interest in these grounds, and the people are not satisfied with three or four days as they used to be, but each year they come a few days sooner, until I verily believe they will soon be appealing to the directors to lengthen out the time of the meeting a week or two longer.

Our meeting does not commence until Thursday, and there are six or seven cottages already occupied. From Maysville we have Rev. A. Boreing and son, John Walsh, Theo. Lowery, Charles Sheppard, Mrs. John Walsh, Miss Annie Walsh, Miss Birdie Walsh, Garfield, John, Jr., Ellen and Otis Walsh, Mrs. Theo. Lowery, Miss Lida Lowery and sister, Mrs. James K. Lloyd with her sons and daughters, Mrs. Charles Sheppard and three children, Miss Anna Cone, Mrs. Lizzie Smithers and daughter. From Tollesboro, Thomas Ruggles, wife and family and Mr. Hambrick. From Vanceburg, Mr. Plummer and family. And, Mr. Editor, I know if you could drop in and take a glass of the cool sparkling water from one of these wells you would soon say with the many who come here: "O, that I could spend days here and enjoy this pure water from God's fountains."

Tell the Maysville people there is something good for them here, and they will enjoy it if they come.

THE last session of the Pike County grand jury indicted Wm. H. GERMS of contagious diseases are capable of multiplying themselves with marvelous rapidity. A single germ, when placed in a surrounding favorable to its growth, quickly divides in two. Each of these divides itself again and so on, the number soon reaching into thousands. It has been estimated that by the end of twenty-four hours a single germ will have multiplied itself into more than 16,500,000 germs.

Talmage on the Outlook.
"Panics are senseless, whether in an auditorium or in commercial circles. People cease to reason and rush blindly to disaster, when no real danger exists. I look to the coming harvest as a great pacifier that will create a condition of placidity. The fields are all full of ripening crops, and there promises to be a greater ingathering this year than ever before. A winter of great prosperity must follow when the reaction comes."

A Runaway.
Mr. Jos. Brown's omnibus team ran away yesterday morning coming through Washington, and broke the vehicle up pretty badly. Fortunately no passengers were aboard, else they must have fared badly, also, as the horses ran the 'bus against a tree with great force. Mr. Brown had stopped to get a drink, and some hogs running under the horses scared them, causing them to run. The body of the 'bus will be a complete loss.

Politics at Lexington.
As the time for the primary election draws nearer in Lexington the political pot boils faster. Colonel John B. Hodges has announced himself as a candidate for Senator from Fayette County, and he is so far the only aspirant for the place. For Mayor; Henry T. Duncan and J. B. Simral are the only candidates so far. Five men are anxious to handle the city's money, and Major D. Verner Johnson, the present Treasurer, Councilman B. B. Wilson, T. S. Darnaby, William Curran and James Eastin have announced themselves as candidates for City Treasurer. Most of the other offices have numerous candidates, and the political situation promises to be exciting until the primary.

A CRISIS EXPECTED SOON

As a Result of the New South Carolina Liquor Law.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 26.—The liquor situation in South Carolina has assumed a new phase, and one which is expected to bring the struggle between the liquor men and the state authorities to a crisis. About two weeks ago Judge Hudson of the state circuit court, granted an injunction restraining the Darlington county board of control and the county dispenser from establishing a liquor dispensary in the town of Darlington, principally upon the grounds of the unconstitutionality of the new liquor act. Subsequently the attorney general went before Associate Justice Pope of the supreme court and secured from him an order holding up the injunction of Judge Hudson until the question could be passed upon by the supreme court. Thereupon, on Thursday last, the dispensary in Darlington was thrown open to the public and Palmetto state liquors have had a good sale there.

Monday, however, the wheel of justice took another turn. Upon the complaint of citizens opposed to the dispensary Judge Hudson has issued a rule against the three members of the county board of control and the county dispenser, requiring them to show cause before him on Friday next why they should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of court. That they will be so adjudged there can not be the slightest doubt, and the quartette, of course, will be promptly committed to jail. It will then be in order for the state's attorney general to endeavor to secure their release by habeas corpus proceeding in the supreme court. The entire question of the constitutionality of the new liquor law will thus be brought squarely before that tribunal.

Will Seek Work in Chicago. NEW YORK, July 26.—A special to The Sun from Burlington, Ia., says: A hundred miners and skilled laborers from Nebraska have passed through this city on freight trains since Sunday, all bound for Chicago in search of work. They say to remain in the west means starvation. They report hundreds more on the way.

HOLLOW ROCK, Tenn., July 26.—The business portion of this town was destroyed by fire. Only The Record office and Lovelace & Brothers' store remain standing. The loss will reach $40,000, with small insurance. The origin of the fire is believed to be incendiary.

OTHER BUSINESS FAILURES.

SANDUSKY, O., July 26.—The G. B. Hodgman Manufacturing company, manufacturers of cooperage of all descriptions and bridge timber, and wholesale dealers in lumber, has gone into the hands of a receiver, and their works are shut down.

The company, which is an old one, has carried on a profitable business, but was hampered by the tightness of the money market, inability to make collections.
